The Making Math Real® program is an innovative, hands-on-method to help children learn and retain fundamental math skills and math facts. The small class size will allow our group to effectively make use of the many multi-sensory activities that are part of the Making Math Real® program. Manipulatives, card games, board games, outdoor games, story-based images and even hula hoops can help make math a successful experience for every kind of learning style. Children will gain the experience of learning math and having fun!

Instructor: Linda Wong is one of the Second Grade teachers at Tehiyah. She has been teaching for over 12 years, using a variety of math programs. One of the most successful programs she has worked with is Making Math Real®. She has found that all children can be successful at math, as long as they have the right tools.
